COMMENTS (TO BE COMPLETED BY THE COMMITTEE)

Article 3 of Appendix 7 defined a list of staff as “non-operational staff (without seat)”; the article states that those people “cannot benefit from a seated position [...] in one of the technical spaces attributed to the Competitor.” In that sense, those people can exceptionally benefit from a seated position with a laptop in non-technical spaces.

To separate technical from non-technical spaces, we expect the Competitor to demonstrate common sense. The garage being an entire technical space, then team villas or teams’ hospitalities can be arranged to separate technical and non-technical area. For example, if any person is found using an intercom radio or an operational software, this person will be considered as operational staff wherever its seated position is located.
